Visiting the K Club's Ryder Cup resort and many other brilliant complexes around the country allows you to experience phenomenal courses, and appreciate Ireland's reputation for its warm welcome and legendary hospitality.

1 THE K CLUB GOLF & SPA RESORT

Straffan, Co. Kildare

Located just 40 minutes from Ireland's capital Dublin and Dublin international airport, the atmosphere at the K Club is opulent yet relaxed, and represents the best of luxury hotel accommodation in the beautiful countryside of Kildare. At this five-star hotel, with its stunning championship golf courses, you are assured of the warmest of welcomes from the discreet and helpful hotel staff.

ACCOMMODATION & LEISURE

The hotel has been recently awarded AA Hotel of the Year 2010 in Ireland, and it's easy to see why. The experience at the K Club is first class in every respect. The period features of the building itself are complemented by the first-class modern facilities inside the bedrooms and throughout the resort. The K Club's hotel has been named Ireland's only 5 Red Star venue by the AA, and has been awarded the RAC Gold Ribbon. Not surprisingly, it offers some of the finest hotel accommodation in Ireland, with 69 luxury hotel guest bedrooms, including 9 hotel suites.

The surroundings are equally spectacular, as the hotel is set amidst 800 acres of stunning woodland. Visitors to the K Club can sample the possibilities afforded by the estate and its surroundings, including excellent fly-fishing, horse riding, clay pigeon shooting, walking, and cycling. Meanwhile, the on-site K Spa prides itself on offering the very best in health and beauty treatments. The complex also features a 16-metre swimming pool, water jet massage, Jacuzzi, sauna and steam room, while the doors open out to a 'Zen Garden', where you can let all your troubles slide away. The Byerley Turk, meanwhile, is a sumptuous dining room, offering the finest in French cuisine. There are also superb bars in which to drink, including the lauded Vintage Crop, named after one of owner Michael Smurfit's most celebrated race horses.

GOLF

Set in 330 acres of lush Kildare countryside, the K Club is arguably the finest parkland golf complex in Ireland. It has hosted the prestigious European Open and The Ryder Cup in 2006, the first time the event was staged in Ireland.

Palmer Course

In late 2006, the Palmer Course at the K Club played host to Europe's record-equalling Ryder Cup victory. Palmer succeeded in manipulating the existing mature trees and water features to create a magnificent test for golfers of all standards. It is a stadium-style resort course, and at over 7,300 yards from the tips, many commentators have described it as the most difficult inland layout in the country. The coverage and attention that has been brought to both the K Club and Irish golf in general is richly deserved, given the faultless display that the Palmer Course exhibited during the Ryder Cup.

Smurfit Course

Although somewhat overshadowed by the Ryder Cup course next door, the Smurfit Course should not be overlooked. Divided from the Palmer Course by the River Liffy, which flows right through to Dublin, the layout can be characterised as an inland links, with much earth having been moved to create dune-like mounds at the edge of the fairways. The drama of the experience at the Smurfit comes primarily from the 14 acres of water that have been worked into the course. The course has a more rugged feel than its sister, owing to the planting of gorse and bracken. The signature hole is the monster par-5 7th, which measures 606 yards and skirts a dramatic series of water cascades.

The state-of-the-art spa and leisure facilities provide guests with the chance to use the 18-metre swimming pool, sauna, steam room, techno gym, beauty treatment rooms, tranquil room and sun shower. Renwick's Restaurant has recently been awarded an AA Rosette, serving top quality cuisine, and allowing superb views of the countryside.

GOLF

With wide, undulating USGA greens, superb scenery and plenty of risk and reward holes to enjoy, golf course design legend and former Ryder Cup stalwart Dave Thomas has managed to build this course to feel mature beyond its years. It has already hosted several PGA EuroPro Tour events and the PGA European Challenge Tour. But this is a course that can be enjoyed by all with an imaginative layout typical of the modern style with large well-positioned bunkers and tricky raised greens arranged over a spectacular and scenic setting.

Despite its position close to some pretty hilly terrain, the course itself is relatively flat, offering an enjoyable challenge to all those fortunate enough to visit Cardrona for a golfing break. The testing par-72 track is complemented by some fantastic practice facilities on-site.

GOLF

There are two phenomenal golf courses on offer here and neither will disappoint. An added attraction is the Algarve's largest golf academy on-site, enabling you to improve your game while you are staying here.

• MORGADO DO REGUENGO

This is a relatively mature feeling course thanks to the great many olive trees around the site, and that has added to the aesthetic beauty of the natural surroundings, which are dominated by the imposing Monchique mountains. Golfers of all abilities will love Morgado do Reguengo as it has been built with multiple tees, although it measures a mighty 7,300 yards from the tips.

• ALAMOS

This 6,600 yard course is relatively open from the tee, but its large greens are extremely tricky. The enormous putting surfaces are noted for their severe slopes, and are guarded by treacherous bunkers. The raised greens play havoc with club selection, while Alamos is also punctuated with a number of hazardous water features; in fact, the course is formulated around three large lakes, which provide both excitement and aesthetic beauty. Alamos has received much praise in its short time on the Algarve, and is a real pleasure to enjoy during a holiday in this golfing paradise.

• SALGADOS

This wonderful 6,649 yard layout has been sympathetically built into a protected wildlife area, where many rare bird species make their home. Salgados has a tremendous variety of holes, ensuring that it is an intriguing test for golfers of all abilities. The layout has, in fact, a distinct links feel to it, but it features an intricate network of lakes and streams. The signature hole is arguably the first, where there is no easy opening - golfers must thread the ball onto a fairway bordered on both sides by threatening water features.

• CHAMPIONSHIP COURSE

The name of Penina has almost become a brand in itself, such is its legendary status as a golf resort. The main reason for this is the magnificent Championship Course, designed by the great Sir Henry Cotton. Since its 1966 inception, the course has hosted countless high profile professional events, including multiple Portuguese Opens, and the fact it's still a leading light of the Algarve is a testament to the staying power of Cotton's design. Carved into the established woodland, the par-73 Championship Course deservedly remains a true Algarve favourite.

• RESORT COURSE

Though only a nine-hole track, the Resort Course is a decent test even for experienced golfers, and has 18 separate tees to provide sufficient variety. Two loops form a par-71 layout, including one par-5, stretching the course to over 6,500 yards, which ensures that Penina has plenty of golf to keep visitors occupied.

• ACADEMY COURSE

For beginners and those looking to hone their short games, the Academy Course with its nine entertaining holes is ideal. Maintained to a high standard, the Academy is well worth a look.

1 PENHA LONGA HOTEL, SPA & GOLF RESORT

Linho

There cannot be many more dramatic settings for a golf break in Portugal than Penha Longa. The canvas is dominated by the spectacular Sintra Hills and the deep green forests, but the elegant palazzo-style hotel is also a luxurious haven and perfectly complements the two championship tracks that thread their way through dramatic outcrops of forest.

ACCOMMODATION & LEISURE

With extensive amenities that are the equal of the surroundings, the Penha Longa Hotel is one of the premier venues on the Lisbon coastline. Its strikingly colourful façade and its rich history are only part of the story. The roots of the property can be traced to the 14th century, but the resort is bang up to date with first class championship golf over 27 excellent holes, making it one of Portugal's top golf and leisure destinations.

Luxury is the order of the day here. The palazzo-style hotel's collection of guest rooms boast breathtaking views from the private balconies, while the bedroom amenities include marble bathrooms, plush terry robes, flat screen plasma televisions, goose down duvets, Nespresso coffee machines and high speed internet access.

In addition to the world-class golf, there's the superb Six Senses Spa, a magnificent complex located in the historic part of the Penha Longa Resort. The heart of this huge facility is the range of nine individually designed treatment rooms, where the indulgent treatments are offered in line with a holistic approach to wellbeing. Unwind in the garden hot tub next to the three-metre waterfall, or simply enjoy the sunshine of the glorious Lisbon coast.

The Penha Longa dining experience is hard to beat as the hotel is blessed with some top class international restaurants; undisputed highlights are the Portuguese classics in assaMassa, the gourmet Japanese specialties in Midori and the Atlantic themed Arola.

GOLF

The architect of the stunning Atlantic Course at Penha Longa, Robert Trent Jones Junior, was given a beautiful parcel of land to work with and he certainly made the most of it. This championship layout ranks inside the top-30 in continental Europe and has twice hosted the Portuguese Open in the 1990s and in 2010.

While the Atlantic is a genuine test of championship golf, a more relaxed experience awaits at the neighbouring Monastery Course. This nine-hole layout is less demanding than its illustrious sibling, but it is equally well conditioned and a joy to play. The courses at Penha Longa are terrific in themselves, but hotel residents also have the chance to explore the local area around Sintra, Cascais and Estoril and experience some fabulous golf; consider Beloura, Quinta da Marinha, Oitavos, Estoril and Belas, or venture north to discover the delights of Golden Eagle, Bom Sucesso and Praia D'El Rey.

A charming spa and excellent dining are also attractive features of the Sesimbra Hotel, while the region boasts scenes of natural beauty, with amazing beaches to explore.

GOLF

With the Arrábida mountains as its backdrop, the course at the Quinta do Peru Golf and Country Club offers the average player a thoroughly enjoyable game, while also presenting a challenge for low-handicap amateurs and professionals - it has even hosted several events on the European Challenge Tour.

It was voted among the top-10 courses in Portugal in a recent poll and the layout is certainly memorable for its scenery as well as the quality of its holes. The fairways are studded with many trees and wild flowers and they offer excellent views over the surrounding countryside. The course provides a varied start - the first three holes are a par 5, a 420-yard par-4 and a 225-yard par-3, and a real danger hole is the 8th, measuring around 220 yards, with a lake in front of its green.

The next nine holes are even more difficult. The 12th features a lake running beside the fairway and down to the green. Then comes what is probably the most difficult test on the course, the 16th, a 220-yard par-3, where you need to play over a lake to reach the green.

When you've finished your round there's a very comfortable clubhouse to relax in, and the friendly family atmosphere makes this club one of the most highly regarded in Portuguese golf.

Quinta do Peru

It's no surprise that the Costa del Sol remains one of the most popular golfing destinations in Europe. It is blessed with amazingly good weather plus lots of international standard courses and hotels, grouped conveniently close Malaga and Marbella.

1 LA CALA HOTEL & GOLF RESORT

Mijas

La Cala is an institution of Spanish golf. Three world class 18-hole championship courses in the beautiful rolling hills of Mijas, an outstanding hotel, a state-of-the-art academy and an equally impressive spa provide a depth and breadth of facilities that few other resorts can match.

from £415

ACCOMMODATION & LEISURE

Despite the number of golf holes on offer here, the hotel is actually quite modest in size with just 107 rooms. It is not short on quality though and in addition to a private balcony or terrace, providing terrific views over the swimming pool or the golf courses and hills, rooms come with air-conditioning, safe deposit box, mini-bar and under-floor heating in the luxury bathrooms. The exterior reflects the traditional styles and colours of Andalucía, and it is also pleasingly low level, helping to reinforce the sophisticated atmosphere of the resort.

The Mijas Costa is a short transfer from Malaga Airport, and many of the most popular coastal towns are within easy reach, while back on the resort, guests will enjoy the intimate La Cala ambience.

La Cala is the location for one of Spain's leading wellness centres, the marvellous Caracala Spa, a haven that draws influence from the Emperor who built many of ancient Rome's most opulent public baths. Luxury product lines support the indulgent treatment menu at Caracala, which also has a magnificent thermal circuit, relaxation areas, a crystal sauna and herbal steam room.

GOLF

There are 54 holes of golf here and barely a weak one among them. That's down to the talent of the courses' designer, Cabell Robinson, the American architect and disciple of the legendary Robert Trent Jones. These courses are among the very best on the Costa Del Sol, with tough driving holes and frequent changes in elevation a recurring theme.

America Course is a picturesque challenge with a par of 72. Regarded by many as the most difficult of La Cala's three, the America is a true gem, and its five par-5s create some tremendous moments of drama.

Asia Course is considered by most to be a less demanding challenge, but it is no less entertaining, asking numerous strategic questions and calling for accuracy above all else. Water can put an end to a good scorecard on the Asia, as can the daunting par-5 finishing hole.

Europa Course is the youngest at La Cala, having been inaugurated in March 2005, but its star has risen swiftly and it is extremely popular. In contrast to the America and Asia, which wind through the foothills, the Europa is flatter, and golfers will encounter the River Ojen on a number of occasions.

Rounding off the golfing landscape at La Cala is the David Leadbetter Golf Academy, a landmark tuition and instruction centre that makes use of cutting edge technology.

In addition to some amazing hotels, the variation of courses on the magical stretch of shoreline between Malaga and Gibraltar is quite staggering too. From challenging championship tests to friendlier resort courses, there's something for everyone.

MELIA

GOLF

La Quinta Golf comprises three loops of nine holes designed by Manuel Pinero, a member of Europe's 1985 Ryder Cup winning team. San Pedro is the original course and forms the backbone of the toughest course combination. The Ronda course will test the precision and accuracy of every golfer with undulating fairways and fast, difficult greens while the Guadaiza Course is set against the backdrop of the awe-inspiring Sierra Blanca mountain range.

• SAN PEDRO COURSE

San Pedro is the original course and arguably presents the toughest challenge. There is a good variety of holes, with some delightful par-3s being offset by exacting long holes, where finding the correct position off the tee is crucial. The highlight is the 5th, where the fairway is banked on either side by mature pine trees and out-of-bounds.

• RONDA COURSE

The Ronda course is the favourite loop of many visiting golfers to La Quinta. Named in honour of a beautiful local village, the Ronda course will test the precision and accuracy of every golfer with undulating fairways and fast, difficult greens. There are blind tee shots to be negotiated, while the most demanding proposition is undoubtedly the long 6th, requiring three good strikes to find the target.

• GUADAIZA COURSE

The Guadaiza Course, meanwhile, is set against the backdrop of the awe-inspiring Sierra Blanca mountain range. The Guadaiza is the newest addition to La Quinta Golf. It is also the longest of the three loops, demanding powerful and accurate drives. Negotiating the three successive par-5s is the key to mastering the Guadaiza.

As well as an almost endless list of fantastic courses that surround Marbella and Puerto Banus, the Costa Del Sol is also famous for its wonderful nightlife in addition to some of the most striking mountain and coastal scenery in all of Spain.

2 LA MANGA CLUB LAS LOMAS VILLAGE Murcia

- Magnificent panoramic views

4 Nights, B&B

ACCOMMODATION & LEISURE

This is a fantastic option for groups and families as there's a superb range of accommodation in the village which can cater to just about every demand. Las Lomas Village occupies a prominent position around the highest points of the La Manga estate, so residents can enjoy splendid panoramas across the golf courses and the resort.

The units are in a collection of studios, townhouses and apartments on either self-catered or bed and breakfast basis and they have been positioned so that they resemble a traditional Spanish village. This feeling is reinforced by the restaurants and shops that are also found at Las Lomas.

Another major plus of opting for Las Lomas is its position next to La Manga Club's magnificent Spa; whether it is the comprehensive gym, the hydrotherapy area, the indulgent treatments or simply the views from the excellent top floor Indian restaurant, the best of the Spa is right on your doorstep.

The dining here reflects the ethos of the resort, with a huge range of conveniently situated restaurants and bars. The options include Amapola, perfect for a special occasion, Luigi's, an informal Italian restaurant, La Bodega, which offers authentic tapas and wine, plus the Mexican-inspired Andale. Other options include Asia restaurant, inspired by South East Asian cuisine or the legendary Piano Bar.

The popularity of Murcia is blooming and with new airline services into the region and new developments bolstering the options available to the travelling golfer, this region has become a first class holiday destination.

1 LA MANGA CLUB Murcia

South Course

North Course

With numerous sport and leisure options, a huge range of accommodation, its own beach club and a large collection of bars and restaurants, it would be easy to label La Manga Club as a 'jack of all trades'. But far from being a master of none, La Manga Club provides a first-class experience in just about every area it operates thanks to the wonderful layout of the resort and the sheer quality of the facilities on offer.

GOLF

To have one outstanding championship course would be a blessing for any resort. To have two is rare in the extreme, but to have three, as you have at La Manga Club, is almost unique and makes a golf break here a delightful experience.

South Course

Technically, the South Course is probably the best layout at La Manga Club, but will it be your favourite? With three equally impressive courses, opinion is usually split and each course has its own particular charm and character. The South, revised in the early 1990s by Arnold Palmer, has the most pedigree. It hosted the Spanish Open and the European Tour Qualifying School, and this par-73 frequently ranks among Europe's best resort courses.

North Course

This is a shorter but trickier proposition than the South although similar in that it ends close to the five-star hotel. Despite the fact that they border one another, the two courses are different in character. Tighter fairways and larger, more undulating greens, many with plateaus and slopes, mark out the North – and as a result the course rewards creativity and accuracy above all else.

West Course

This is the third championship layout at La Manga and is many people's favourite. Part of the reason is the topography, which is more undulating and provides some outstanding views of the local area. At just over 6,500 yards it's no monster by modern standards, but it doesn't need to be. The course winds its way through strands of pine trees, around and over gullies and scrubland, making it a challenging strategic proposition.

Spa & Leisure

With a hilltop location in Las Lomas Village providing phenomenal views, the Spa La Manga Club is one you'll never forget. There's a large range of treatments and, using the exclusive Kerstin Florian product range, an amazing array of pampering is available in the deluxe treatment rooms. The spa centre also has an indoor swimming pool, jacuzzis and relaxation areas, not to mention a huge gym with floor to ceiling windows that offer amazing views.

In addition to golf, La Manga Club also boasts a world-famous tennis centre that has hosted the Davis Cup, extensive football and cricket facilities and a private beach club.

It is natural contrasts that make Murcia stand out from other regions in Spain. Plains and hills, desert and lush green fields. The golfing landscape, with an array of brand new top class courses, now plays its part in painting the canvas of this beguiling region.

El Valle Golf Resort, meanwhile, is another Jack Nicklaus team effort with the white sand and the surrounding scrubland giving it an appearance more akin to the deserts of Arizona than Murcia. Hacienda Riquelme Golf Resort is another phenomenal course providing a hugely enjoyable golfing experience, yet again designed by the Golden Bear.

GOLF

Managed by Troon Golf, the world's leader in upscale golf course management, the course and surrounds are kept immaculately with the aim of providing the very best playing surfaces.

The Cabell B. Robinson designed par-71 championship golf course measures 6,973 yards from the back tees, and provides a stern yet fair test of golf. Every hole is different in its design, blending naturally into the landscape. The width of the fairways, the large undulating greens, and numerous tee positions on each hole provide for a truly great golf experience, and offer players of all abilities a challenging and enjoyable game.

Dramatic bunkering plays a major part throughout the course, and five lakes are cleverly shaped and positioned on certain holes, giving the golfer the choice to play strategically and with precision, or to take on the challenges in front of them. A selection of unique par-3s, varying in length and topography, add to the challenge and charm of the golf course, whilst the par-5 holes offer great birdie opportunities.

In addition to its championship course, there is a full range of amenities situated in and around the modern clubhouse. A natural grass driving range, large putting green, chipping green and practice bunkers are right beside the 1st and 10th tees, and a Golf Academy is on hand for individual or group lessons. ### GOLF

• LEVANTE COURSE

Villaitana's golfing complex is located on the fringes of the resort, and boasts two 18-hole courses designed by one of golf's greatest names, Jack Nicklaus. The Levante is regarded as one of the Costa Blanca's most challenging and enjoyable tests. In true Golden Bear style, the risk/reward factor is ever-present and while the brave may be richly rewarded for an aggressive strategy, the penalties for failure are severe if you stray too far off line.

Very much in the mould of an American resort track, the Levante has pretty tight fairways and gentle undulations throughout, while the large greens are receptive, and maintained to a superb standard. At 7,297 yards, it favours the long hitters out there, but there is something to entertain everyone, not least the spectacular surroundings. The Villaitana Golf facilities include a Club House with terraces and views over the sea, cafeteria, pro-shop, rooms and changing rooms as well as a practice area. There's also a modern golf academy with state-of-the-art teaching facilities, making it one of the best golfing options on the Costa Blanca.

• PONIENTE COURSE

Villaitana's second course, Poniente, makes a refreshing change in this distance-obsessed age. The par-62 layout measures 4,017 yards, but is still enjoyable even for the highly skilled players, whose short game should benefit from the tricky short holes. Having a second course like this makes the resort incredibly appealing, as it is perfect for children, beginners, and those who are just looking for a leisurely round in the sunshine.

Golf attracts over half a million visitors to the Costa Blanca every year and it's expected to become even more popular as it now has 15 top quality courses with terrific facilities, most of which are sited on the coast and close to the main tourist resorts.

The spacious bedrooms feature modern amenities and are bright and have king-size beds or two double beds which guarantee a great night's sleep. They are also equipped with satellite/cable LCD TV, Internet access, direct dial telephone and safety box. #### GOLF

Golf La Finca features generous fairways and spectacular greens. The course is relatively long at around 6,700 yards but the main danger comes from the many water hazards around this magnificent course. The course, designed by the noted Pepe Gancedo, was built to host top tournaments. Most of the fairways at La Finca are generously wide and the rough isn't too long, but with the water hazards and numerous pine and olive trees it is a good test of your golfing skills. The par-72 course offers a large variety of challenging holes which incorporate the lakes, creeks and reed beds brilliantly.

Combine your Golf Pass with a stay at one of Gran Canaria's splendid luxury hotels and experience a golfing holiday you'll never forget. You'll be able to enjoy golf at courses such as:

Real Club de Golf de Las Palmas, near Las Palmas, is Spain's oldest golf club having been founded in 1891. This wonderful layout borders an extinct volcanic crater, testimony to the volcanic origins of the Canary Islands. The course enjoys spectacular views of the crater and of the sea as well as striking ravines, and has narrow fairways and small greens.

The spectacular 18-hole, par-72 course at El Cortijo Club de Campo is one of the longest courses in Spain, with up to six tees at each hole, allowing for players of all abilities to enjoy this classic layout. The greens are fast, the course has six lakes and more than 600 palm trees, and it has spectacular views of the sea that surrounds the island.

On Gran Canaria's southern side, one of the sunniest areas in the world, the breathtaking Maspalomas Golf is surrounded by a nature park of sand dunes, with views of the Atlantic Ocean, palm trees and fine golden sandy beaches. The 18-hole, par-73 course is located next to a full range of hotels, from luxury five-star establishments to small apartments and bungalows.

Near to Maspalomas Golf Course is the new Meloneras Golf, an 18-hole, par-71 course. It was designed as a technically challenging course to suit players of all handicaps, and enjoys an ideal location next to a number of four and five-star hotels. In an area of outstanding natural beauty with ravines, volcanic rock and spectacular mountain and ocean views is Salobre Golf & Resort. The manicured fairways and greens contrast with the rugged desert landscape, creating a spectacular oasis in which to enjoy a round of golf. This resort is unique in that it has two 18-hole courses. The South Course was designed by Roland Fauvry, in close collaboration with Robert Trent Jones, and has a wide variety of holes. The North Course, meanwhile, is a stunning par-72 course which is clearly influenced by North American courses and winds through hills and valleys.

Another American-style course you can enjoy is Anfi Tauro Golf, which has incredible views of the ocean and the spectacular mountains of Valle de Tauro. The 18-hole Arizona style course is located in an area of lush green vegetation, with lakes and waterfalls, set against a dramatic volcanic mountain backdrop, creating an unforgettable round of golf.

Inside is a well-equipped gym, sauna and indoor pool. The hotel's renowned restaurant provides elegant Mediterranean cuisine and is supported by a collection of some 400 fine wines.

GOLF

The Son Vida layout received a shot in the arm in 2001 when esteemed golf architect Kurt Rooknecht reworked the entire course, but the recent work has not detracted from the original F.W. Hawtree design, put in place in the early 1950s. With fabulous mountain and sea views, Son Vida has it all, and is definitely a favourite of regular golf travellers to the island of Mallorca. Nearby is Son Muntaner, a picturesque and thoroughly rewarding golf course, a tough test which tips the scales at nearly 7,000 yards, although there are different tee boxes to suit most golfers. The third course on the complex is Son Quint, plus the Son Quint high class 9-hole Executive Course.

Poniente

There are few destinations as close to the UK that offer the quality of hotels, golf courses and beaches to match Cyprus. Mix that with the year-round climate and you have a destination that's hard to resist.

Overlooking the azure Mediterranean waters of the coastline around Paphos, the accommodation is comprised of a stylish collection of low rise buildings that contain a total of 290 guest rooms and suites. All are within moments of the fabulous central swimming pool and lounge area, and offer a reassuring degree of privacy.

Every room boasts its own balcony or terrace, while the décor combines luxury facilities with a classic, understated style. Interior highlights include deluxe marble bathrooms with separate walk-in showers, a mini-bar, air-conditioning, safe deposit box and satellite television. The Carob Lounge is a cosy and atmospheric retreat where you can relax and enjoy a long cocktail or two, especially if you visit the sublime roof terrace area, and is an ideal place for an aperitif before heading off for one of the splendid restaurants at the resort.

These include Leander, serving an enticing Asian-European fusion menu, the classically Mediterranean Mesogios, the buffet style Eleonas and the Ithaki fish dining room. Further options are available around the Village Square, including Asian and Italian dining, plus a great pub.

The Retreat Spa is not to be missed. It has been voted 'European Spa of the Year' in the past and it's easy to see why. There are an amazing 27 treatment rooms in total, including the super sumptuous garden massage huts, where you can relax and luxuriate in the latest treatments while looking out to sea. You can also experience a fabulous infinity pool overlooking the Mediterranean. In addition, Aphrodite Hills offers the chance to enjoy the Zies Beach Club and The Cove - private beach areas.

GOLF

Aphrodite Hills is deservedly ranked as one of the finest courses in Europe. It may play host to the prestigious PGA EuroPro Championship, but this is a course that can be enjoyed by all but total beginners thanks to a fantastic layout that's very flexible due to its multiple tees.

The Cabell Robinson-designed championship layout is also visually stunning, spanning a truly unique piece of land incorporating two hilltops. As a result, the course presents magnificent views of the coastline and some brilliant holes, such as the long 3rd, which demands a long carry across a deep ravine.

The short 7th is also sublime with a similarly dangerous approach, and the signature 8th is a hole you'll never forget, playing straight down towards the sea. There is also a well-equipped golf academy that is complete with a 3-hole training course, an ideal place for less experienced golfers to develop their skills.

Golfers looking for winter warmers or a guaranteed sunshine break in the east Mediterranean have increasingly been turning to Cyprus and with four top-class courses the lure of this friendly island is greater than ever.

Minthis Hills

Secret Valley

GOLF

The Capital Golf Resort & Spa enjoys preferential rates with two of Paphos' four superb golf courses and they provide a magnificent combination for a golfing break.

Minthis Hills is a favourite with regular golf holiday visitors to western Cyprus because of the quality of the Donald Steel-designed golf course, which spans the estate of a 12th century monastery. Located to the north-east of Paphos, but within easy reach of the town, subtle amendments and improvements were completed in 2007 which have enhanced the playing experience. The elevated landscape, which is home to the par-71, 6,373-yard layout, is both challenging and beautiful, and adds much to the golfing options around the holiday resort town of Paphos.

At Secret Valley, significant renovation and improvements have been carried out which have improved the course's condition markedly. The golf course is set in a scenic valley and is carved into the mature woodland and remarkable rock formations of the local landscape. The 5,989-yard, par-71 layout is a tranquil and charming place to enjoy a round. Conveniently located for access from Paphos, Secret Valley is certainly worth including in your next golf holiday to Cyprus.

This is an island that has just about everything – great beaches, striking mountain ranges, bustling holiday towns and warm hospitality – and the area around Paphos now boasts some of the finest golf courses in the Mediterranean region.

Children can join the hotel's Pelican Kids Club and be entertained with a variety of games and activities.

ELEA GOLF CLUB

Elea Golf Club is a magnificent new addition to the golf offerings around Paphos and has made this destination more enticing than ever.

The par-71 golf course commands a striking location above the shimmering Mediterranean Sea, featuring imposing weathered outcrops of limestone that give the golf course a unique character across the course. Designed by six-time Major champion Sir Nick Faldo, the emphasis is on strategy rather than big-hitting, and there are plenty of riddles for the golfer to explore and unravel over the 18 holes.

The fascinating layout circulates through stands of mature carob and olive trees, while the dramatic outcrops of rock strike a contrast with the deep green of the seaside paspalum grass fairways and semi-rough.

In a carefully planned ecological design, individual holes are fringed by undisturbed and irrigated swathes of colourful native 'garrigue' flora. This stunning visual effect invokes a truly Mediterranean feel, while retaining a traditional and dramatic experience for the golfer. One other significant feature of Elea Golf Club is the large and sumptuous clubhouse that also boasts underground parking facilities.

Elea Golf Club

There's no doubt that Greece has all the ingredients to become a very enticing golf destination, it's just that the Greeks are only just waking up to the fact. Your options are limited to a handful of courses but the accent on quality means they are well worth a visit.

may be interested in the excellent kids' club at Palmeria, which offers a great range of activities. The Spa facility offers a wide range of indulgent treatments, and also boasts a Jacuzzi, steam room, sauna, Turkish bath and a superb fitness centre. The resort's eight different restaurants allow you to try cuisine from Italy, France, Morocco, China and beyond. With the opening of Le Comptoir (Avenue Rechouda), the sister restaurant to the Parisian establishment of the same name, the gastronomic landscape of Marrakech has changed and this is without doubt one of the finest eateries in town.

Pavillon du Golf

Palmeria's Pavillon Du Golf is a stunning hideaway nestled in the shadow the Atlas Mountains. Situated in the heart of the palm grove overlooking the lake of the golf course, this boutique-style accommodation offers panoramic views over the course, swathes of palm trees and striking snow-capped mountains. Thoughtful design touches bring ancient Marrakech right to your doorstep. Le Pavillon du Golf consists of 44 deluxe suites that have been designed to appeal to the most refined travellers. Internet, satellite TV and 24-hour room service are just a selection of the many facilities that are to be enjoyed here.

GOLF

Under the gaze of the magnificent Atlas Mountains, the Palmeria resort's sublime, lush landscape plays host to a championship golf course designed by the legendary Robert Trent Jones. In this desert oasis, palm trees adorn the fringes of the course, which runs around seven large lakes. To many it is an ideal holiday layout, but these pristine fairways are narrow, which places a premium on accurate driving. With a maximum distance of 6,835 yards, Palmeria is not overly long for a championship course, but it is long enough to challenge all standards of golfer and its strategic nature means that playing conservatively from the tee can be prudent. This enjoyable course, aided by the warm welcome at the superb clubhouse with its ochre walls and Moorish-style design, is a real highlight of any golf trip to Morocco.

This is a country that has embraced the Auld Game like few others. Agadir, in the south is a renowned golfing centre, while Marrakech, a vibrant city that has almost endless cultural attractions, is home to a collection of truly international standard golf courses.

Voted 'Europe's Leading Spa Resort', the Cornelia Diamond is also the proud home of the Crassula Spa, a phenomenal wellness centre that has extensive facilities that span two floors and offers the most comprehensive range of holistic treatments, plus the use of Turkish baths and Russian steam baths, all set against a divine backdrop. The name Crassula is derived from a botanic family of plants that has long been associated with natural wellbeing, and the theme has been extended throughout the amazing complex. Two signature treatments stand out: the indulgent Asian Diamond, and the Albatros Golf Massage, favoured by golfers as the antidote to a long day tackling the magnificent Faldo Course.

GOLF

Like the Cornelia Deluxe, guests at the Diamond Resort & Spa have a great opportunity to experience the magical 27 holes at the Cornelia Golf Club. This outstanding golf complex, with its course designed by Nick Faldo, winds its way through some of the most attractive landscapes Turkey has to offer. There are plenty of water hazards to negotiate, while a large sandy ridge runs right through the course and is a major characteristic of several holes. Elevated tees and greens are another distinctive element of the golf courses but the whole design blends into the natural terrain brilliantly. The courses can be played in excess of 7,000 yards, depending on the combination of the Tiberius, Sempronia and Gaius loops you select for your 18 holes. The pine-strewn, sandy soil is ideal for golf, and the high standard of conditioning the Faldo enjoys makes it one of Belek's finest layouts.

• ANTALYA GOLF CLUB

The Pasha and PGA Sultan, with their distinctive styles, rank among the best and most popular courses Belek and guests at the Sirene Resort, and also the luxury Kempinski Hotel The Dome, enjoy privileged access to these two outstanding courses at Antalya Golf Club.

• PGA SULTAN CLUB

There is a string of great courses in the Belek area now but this course has not been overshadowed by any of them. No expense was spared in creating this layout by the renowned architects, European Golf Design, and the championship standard course, that tips the scales over the 7,000 yards, can challenge even the best players due to multiple teeing areas. Thanks to being constructed in accordance with the most up-to-date standards, the course remains in immaculate condition throughout the season.

• PASHA COURSE

Although this is shorter and certainly less demanding than the PGA Sultan Course, there is no compromise in the preparation and conditioning of the Pasha. Many golfers may well prefer the slightly less penal layout but it is no pushover, presenting some thought-provoking holes thanks to astute bunkering and dog-legs. The strategic nature of the design means golfers of every standard can enjoy a round here.

- Bestselling Belek golf hotel
- Beach resort destination
- Top access to Sultan / Pasha
- Excellent all inclusive
- Leisure and great restaurants

The increasing number of championship standard courses in Belek rank among Europe's best, and are maintained in immaculate condition, while each one of our recommended hotels has a five-star rating, ensuring a high quality luxury base for every golf holiday.

GOLF

The phenomenal Robert Trent Jones II design at The Residence ensures you will have an experience to remember. The course is located between the sea and a salt lake in the heart of a beautiful natural reserve. The course is situated on salt flats beside the resort of Gammarth, and the fairways are laid out as two returning loops of nine holes. Unusually, the holes are sequenced as a trio of par-3s, par-4s and par-5s on the opening nine. The two nines also skirt the same lake, with the round concluding with a magnificent 592-yard par-5 that doglegs its way to the final green.

There is also an 80-bay grass driving range, two putting greens, two pitching greens and practice bunkers. Refreshments are served on the course and there's a full restaurant and bar in the clubhouse. Trent Jones II is one of his generation's pre-eminent course architects, and his creation at the Residence Golf Club has already garnered considerable praise. Although a genuine championship layout, the course can be enjoyed by golfers of all standards, and is certain to be a highlight for any fortunate golf holiday visitor to this remarkable Tunisian destination.
